Our Allom Ceiling Light is an origami exercise in steel. Based on a mid-century original it features two tiers of uplighters, one for reflecting off the underside, the other for illuminating the ceiling.

Our team of craftsmen cut, bend and fold steel sheets to create the profiles and form the elegant shapes. Shown here in a painted white finish but available in the bespoke colour of your choice.

If required, we can alter the drop by changing the length of the hanging rods.
